

A wooden planter box filled with vibrant pink carnations and green foliage. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The planter is set against a light-colored wall.

Deuteronomy 28:24 The LORD shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed.