

A scenic view of a rugged, dark volcanic coastline. The foreground shows a rocky beach with dark, jagged rocks and a small path leading up the slope. The middle ground is dominated by a steep, dark volcanic cliffside that meets the ocean. The background shows the vast, blue ocean under a clear sky. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image.

Romans 06:05 For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection: